Cost: There is no conference/administration fee for this event. However, attendees must cover the cost of their attendance - this will be kept to an absolute minimum - circa €195 to cover accommodation (3 nights) and food.

Suggested Participants: To date, a broad spectrum of academics from a variety of disciplines have attended our events, in addition to individuals from applied / industry backgrounds. We are very welcoming of early stage researchers, whose new and exciting work is always welcome at our event.

Background to Girona / Location of Conference:
Girona is a cultural city with Heritage and Gastronomy as the peak of their Iceberg. Girona still is an unknown treasure living under the shadow of Barcelona and the predominant Costa Brava Region.

The venue of the conference will be the Faculty of Tourism of the University of Girona, located in the heart of the Girona’s old town, surrounded by the Roman and Medieval heritage adapted to the modern world. The faculty of Tourism is located in Saint Dominique’s convent, an early gothic religious building founded in the 13th century. You will be able to enjoy the presentations in the old refectory or the plenary sessions at the praying room of Saint Michael.

Accommodation will be provided in some religious places, trying to bring to all the participants the perfect atmosphere of spirituality.
