5. 00pm Close of conference.
1. The purpose of this Founding Conference shall be to formally establish the new party, decide upon a name, elect a President and Executive, approve an interim constitution, rules and statements of political principle and practice, and subject to the availability of time adopt outlines of party policy.

2. Once adopted it shall take a two thirds majority to change or suspend Standing Orders or the Recommendations of the Steering Committee. Motions to suspend or change Standing Orders or Recommendations of the Steering Committee shall be put to the floor without debate.

3. The Conference shall be open to all registered members and, subject to the availability of space, invited observers.

4. Only registered members may speak, or propose or second motions, amendments or addenda.

5. Members must speak from the rostrum and must indicate their branch or area.

6. Any amendments or addenda, not received prior to the specified deadline, may only be tabled with the consent of the Steering Committee. Any such amendments or addenda shall be submitted in writing; be signed by the proposer and seconder; and submitted through the Steering Committee.

7. The speaker delivering the opening address shall be given ten minutes. The main proposer of the section dealing with the name, constitution and principles, shall be given ten minutes each. The key note speech by the President shall be 30 minutes. All other speakers shall be allowed three minutes each.

8. Those wishing to speak must submit their names to the Steering Committee, who will prepare a list of speakers for the Chair. The Chair at his/her discretion may limit the number of speakers.

9. On the motion being moved and seconded from the floor 'that the motion be now put', the Chair shall immediately put that motion to a vote without debate. If the motion is carried the Chairperson shall immediately put the motion and any amendments under discussion to a vote.

10. There shall be 8 tellers/scrutineers plus a chairperson and assistant chairperson for the counting of votes.

11. Persons nominated for election to the executive or as Party President shall not act as tellers for election to those positions.
12. The party name shall be selected from the short-list prepared by the Party Organising Committee. The vote on the selection of a party name shall be by secret ballot using the 'weighted majority' system of proportional representation.

13. All motions, amendments or addenda require a simple majority and the votes shall be taken by a show of cards by members sitting in the designated areas.

14. Amendments to a motion not reached before the time limit for a particular debate expires may be formally proposed and seconded and voted on.

13. The vote for the executive shall be by secret ballot, in the event of their being more candidates than seats to be filled, using the 'weighted majority' system of proportional representation.

14. The vote for the Party President shall be by secret ballot, in the event of their being more than one candidate. If there are more than two candidates the 'weighted majority' system of proportional representation shall be used.
